

APRIL 2025, NEWSLETTER 1

www.facts-project.eu

ERASMUS+ PROJECT
2023-1EL-01-KA220-VET-000153647

Pictured (left):
PLOES presenting the project at the ME in Greece

● First and second multiplier events in Greece and France

With the F.A.C.T.S. project launched in the final months of 2023, the project's partners are busy sharing the developments and updates from the project in their national contexts.

The first multiplier event took place in Greece and was co-organised by project lead PLOES and project partner RECEBI. The meeting on 23 April 2024 convened a local community of experts and interested parties.

CLG presenting the F.A.C.T.S. project in France
last November

Welcome to the F.A.C.T.S newsletter

Welcome to the newsletter of the Erasmus+ project
F.A.C.T.S.

Every so often, we update you with the latest news and developments about our project that equips professionals with knowledge to support autistic people in understanding their gender and sexual identity.

Happy reading!

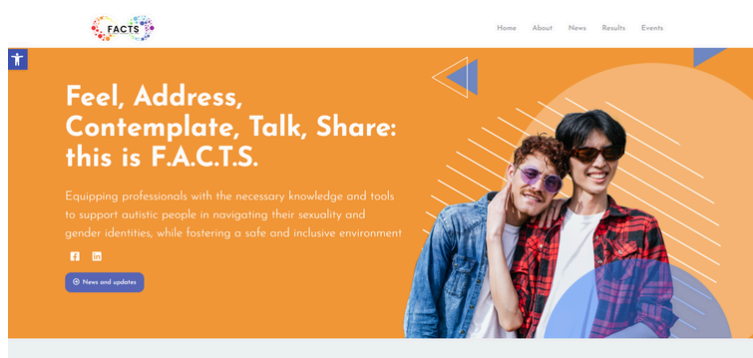

The second multiplier event was held in the French town of Savigny-le-Temple, in the context of a larger gathering on sexuality and mental health - bringing together specialists and experts in the field.

Louise Gourgeon, from Centre de la Gabrielle, presented and contextualised the state of play of the F.A.C.T.S. project and discussed the pressing need to train administrative staff and service providers on the topic of gender and sexual diversity and autism.

● Website live - discover the project online, including the latest deliverables

We are delighted to share some great news with you: our website has gone live!

To equip professionals with the necessary knowledge and tools to support autistic people in navigating their sexuality and gender identities, we needed a suitable web environment to show the world our project's results.

Screenshot, website F.A.C.T.S.

The project website hosts updates, newsletters, general information, and important details about upcoming events.

Discover the website

● Meet the consortium - this is F.A.C.T.S.!

Autistic people deserve equitable access to understanding and enjoying their sexuality and gender identity. Recognising this need, F.A.C.T.S. aims to equip professionals with the knowledge and tools necessary to support autistic individuals in navigating their sexual feelings, desires, and identities. All while fostering a safe and inclusive environment.

To make our deliverables and goals a reality, our team of project partners works together in a carefully selected consortium.

Meet the consortium

