

Feel, Address, Contemplate, Talk, Share: this is F.A.C.T.S.

Equipping professionals with the necessary knowledge and tools to support autistic people in navigating their sexuality and gender identities, while fostering a safe and inclusive environment.

F.A.C.T.S. creates guidelines informing practices in working with autistic people on the topic of gender identity and sexuality.

Objectives:

- Equipping professionals to address sexuality and gender questions.
- Developing a curriculum informed by academic and professional expertise.
- Dispelling misconceptions and misunderstandings surrounding autistic people's sexualities and gender identities.
- Promoting sexual well-being and health among autistic people.
- Preventing sexual harassment and bullying.
- Challenging personal biases among professionals to ensure inclusive support for autistic people.

For more information:

@FACTS project

facts-project.eu

